Fa'shotime known as Christopher Williamson was born in Kansas on the 11th of February 1987. He moved to Marietta, Georgia at a young age, where him and his older brother was raised by his mother.

He started off writing stories as a kid which later led him to writing raps with influences from Twista, Bone Thugs and Tupac.

He was known and popular in middle school for his free-styling skills and became more popular for his fast rapping. This continued all through high school.

In 2008, he moved to Florida for new adventures and that's where he advanced his music skills and career. By 2011, he had learnt how to record, mix and master his own music.

In 2017, his single "Mirror With No Reflection" and the remix he made to Kendrick Lamar's "DNA" has gained him a lot of popularity and fans, especially in the Spacecoast area.
